EVENT SUMMARY

On 18th October, the Department of Economics, Daulat Ram College, University of Delhi, embarked on an educational excursion to OP Jindal Global University, under the guidance of our convenor Professor Devangana Jha, and Teacher In Charge Professor Ritu Khanna and other faculty members. The host university welcomed our students with a hearty breakfast. After that, we were taken to the auditorium for the many enriching sessions by the faculty of the Jindal School of Government and Public Policy. The host panel consisted of Professor R Sudarshan, Professor Debajit Jha, Professor Rahul Menon, Professor Upasana Mahanta, and Professor Kaveri Ishwar Haritas.

Professor Upasana Mahanta commenced the session with an extensive view of the master's programmes offered by the Jindal School of Government and Public Policy. She highlighted how interdisciplinarity, internationalisation, and industry-academic interface were at the crux of the ethos of JS GP. What captivated the audience the most about the Dean of JS GP School, Professor Sudarshan was his extensive and multifarious education and work background. He delved into what the master's programme at JS GP entailed and how it helped in moulding leaders. He further emphasised that knowledge creation is as important as its transmission, and how the faculty at JS GP is committed to that.

Professor Debajit Jha delved into the master's in Economics programme and how JS GP contributed to the growth of budding economists. Professor Kaveri Ishwar Haritas talked in detail about the Master in Public Policy programme and how it would help students make effective changes in society by employing their social acumen. The panel discussion was followed by an engaging and interactive Q&A session which saw encouraging participation by our students, whose questions were not only limited to academia but also the different professional avenues that JS GP promised to push their students in. Furthermore, we could engage with the campus students, who provided us with invaluable insights into their daily academic and social lives.

The hosts graciously felicitated our faculty, presenting them with tote bags and expressing their enthusiasm for this collaboration. The seminar was followed by a lunch in the common cafeteria, which expertly facilitated interactions with the campus students. The lunch provided an invaluable environment for scholarly discourse on the seminar's subject matter, as well as the sharing of personal experiences.

Post-lunch, our hosts conducted an all-encompassing tour of their campus. This included a thorough exploration of each floor, from the academic to residential areas, allowing us to witness the state-of-the-art facilities at their disposal. As the day unfolded and our visit neared its conclusion, we gathered for a group photograph, encapsulating the enduring memories we had created. Our expressions of gratitude for their warm hospitality resonated deeply, and we departed not only with enhanced knowledge but also with enduring professional connections
