EVENT REPORT

The Annual Flagship Event hosted by economics association of Daulat Ram College, ECLAT was a huge success. The event commenced with lamp lighting ceremony, with the esteemed guests being facilitated by IQAC convenor, Prof. Padmashree Mudgal, Ms. Shikha Singh and Dr. Pooja Sharma. The thought-provoking theme, economics of marginalisation, explored pressing issues such as economic inequalities, policy efficiencies, and economic sustenance. The conference provided detailed understanding of the complex relationship between economic policies and how it affects the marginalised communities.

Mutasir'25 organised by ECLAT, the economics society of Daulat Ram College stood true to its name and was successful in deeply moving its audience and stirring them into thought, as well as action. The event was honoured by prof. Ram Singh, Prof Rohini Somanathan, and prof. Surjit Mazumdar, who shared their expertise through their thought-provoking presentations touching upon the theme, economics of marginalisation. The theme was explored through a series of keynote speeches, in depth presentation and interactive Q&A session. It inspired audience to critically think at the world around us, to think beyond tax slabs and how it affects our vulnerable people.

Prof. Ram Singh shed light on the reality versus what is portrayed in media, bursting several myths regarding economic inequalities. On the other hand, Prof Surjit Mazumdar highlighted the global inequality caused by globalisation. Further Prof. Rohini Samantha managed to capture the heart of the audience by discussing how social stereotypes affect women in academia, she also talked about the research and book published by the Nobel prize winner economic historian, Claudia Goldin, and ended with reading an insightful excerpt from the biography of Jean Dickinson Gibbons.

One of the key features of the conference was its commitment towards sustainability. The event's decor was designed in a way that to minimise waste and reduce environmental impact. Newspaper and cardboards were creatively reused to create various visually appealing installations. This attention to detail reflected conference's broader focus on promotion of sustainable economic justice. It served a powerful reminder of the importance of sustainability in all aspects of our lives.
